WHEELER HITS PROSECUTION OF COURT BILL

Calls It Appeal To Prejudices Of The People

Washington, July 9—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) opened his attack on the administration's court bill in the Senate today with an assertion that never before had he seen "such an appeal to the prejudices of the people" as had been made in support of the measure.

The thin-lipped, lanky Montanan opened the opposition debate of the judicial organization measure before packed galleries.

Before beginning his argument, Wheeler put into effect his expressed intention to permit the Senate to transact no business, outside of privileged matters, as long as the administration clamped down strict rules on debate.

Senator Pope (D-Idaho) sought to introduce his new farm bill, but Wheeler objected.

Introduction of new bills, submission of committee reports, and many other routine activities require unanimous consent while the Senate debates the court bill in one continuous "legislative day."

Wheeler's action indicated a huge legislative jam probably will develop back of the bill.

The Montana senator, at the outset of his speech was permitted to talk for some time without interruption.

Denied Quotation
He first called attention to a statement issued recently by Senator Minton (D-Ind.) suggesting that Wheeler had disclosed to newspapermen some of the discussion that took place between him and President Roosevelt at the White House Tuesday.

The Montana senator flatly denied he had either directly or indirectly given out a quotation he was said to have made at the conference.

"The senator from Indiana may feel that as he once gave out a statement after conferring with the President that was later denied, I might do the same thing," Wheeler said. He was apparently referring to an incident early in the session when the White House denied a statement by Minton that it was considering a conference on the constitutional problem.

As the debate opened, Senator Hatch (D-NM.) announced an amendment would be offered to the compromise court bill to make appointment of new justices to the Supreme Court mandatory instead of permissive.

Hit Dictatorial Power
Opponents of the bill had criticized assignment to the President of discretionary power to appoint new justices if those over 75 did not retire.

Wheeler urged his colleagues not to heed administration leaders who pleaded for party loyalty, saying those who went into office on the President's coat-tails "will ride out on his coat-tails, if that is the only reason you are here."

He criticized administration officials for what he called "propagandizing" for the court bill "with money that belongs to the United States and was appropriated by Congress."

Wheeler charged that Majority Leader Robinson (D-Ark.) had invoked Senate rules limiting debate.

Ironical

Los Angeles, July 9—(AP)—Irony teamed with the WPA today to contribute $27.50 to Albert Dyer's defense fund.

While alienists probed the mind of the confessed slayer of three little Inglewood girls, the postman brought Dyer a check. Ironically, the check was for his services in escorting school children across streets. Three of those children were 7 and 9-year-old Madeline and Melba Everett and Jeanette Stephens, 8, whom Dyer is accused of strangling.

RAIN SQUALLS SLOW UP HUNT FOR EARHART

Expect Decision On Success Or Failure By Monday

By The Associated Press
Honolulu, July 9—Equatorial rain squalls threatened to interrupt the search for Amelia Earhart which navy airmen considered was entering its most crucial phase today.

Despite a forecast of rain and poor visibility, officers aboard the battleship Colorado planned to catapult their three planes aloft again in expectation of completing an aerial search of the Phoenix Islands tomorrow.

Airmen felt in flights yesterday and Wednesday they definitely eliminated the possibility she was in the area around Winslow reef.

By sea and air search for the missing aviator and her navigator, Frederick J. Noonan, has encompassed approximately 136,000 square miles without even sighting some of the shoals and sand pits supposed to exist in the vast area.

The fliers vanished a week ago today in an attempt to fly the 2,750-miles from Lae, New Guinea, to Howland Island, a dot of land but two feet above the sea.

The Colorado's fliers, awaiting aid over the week-end from the aircraft carrier Lexington's plane armada, planned today to swing southward once again but come back on a course west of the Phoenix and Howland Islands.

This expedition would cover area previously unexplored by the coast guard cutter Itasca, which carried on the search alone for days near Howland Islands before the Colorado sped southward from Hawaii, more than 1,500 miles away.

Planes Scour Area
Yesterday's flight of more than 500 miles after the planes were catapulted from the battleship's deck covered hundreds of square miles not previously scanned.

Today the aviators planned to go as far south as Gardner island and Carondelet reef, the southernmost part of the Phoenix Islands, which center 280 miles south of lonely Howland.

Planes from the Colorado, which was proceeding cautiously to avoid uncharted reefs in the little traversed equatorial area, were expected to complete search of the Phoenix group before arrival.

Three Accidents on Lincoln Highway

J. L. McDonald of Santa Monica, Calif., as taken to the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital last evening, suffering from severe cuts and bruises sustained in an automobile accident on the Lincoln Highway and at Yorty's corner, north of Ashton in Ogle county, when his car left the paving and turned over.

An Iowa sedan left the Lincoln Highway paving at the "S" curve yesterday afternoon, crashed through a fence into a field without turning over. The occupants were uninjured and the chief damage was to the fence.

Shortly afterward, another sedan in which two women were riding, turned over on its side at the turn on the Lincoln Highway paving one mile east of Franklin Grove. The car was only slightly damaged and the occupants escaped with only a general shaking up.

A continuance was taken until next Tuesday morning to permit an investigation into the politics of certain members of the board, who were said to have become candidates for election and were elected as Republicans. The court recommended requesting the attorney general's office at Springfield for an opinion covering the manner of selection of election officials after Tuesday's hearing, and there was some possibility, it was said, that an appeal might be taken to the Supreme Court of Illinois to determine the exact status of selection by county boards.

“First Lady” Accused of Availing Herself of Tax Loophole by Congressman

Rep. Fish Cites Contract for Radio Broadcasting

Washington, July 8—(AP)—Representative Fish (R-NY) told a congressional committee today that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt availed herself of a tax loophole.

He was told in return: "All your testimony is pure and unadulterated hearsay."

Representative Vinson (D-Ky.) made that answer to Fish, who represents President Roosevelt's home district, after subjecting the New Yorker to biting questioning.

"What are you doing but sneaking?" Vinson asked.

The New York congressman, who also suggested committee examination of tax returns of several members of Roosevelt's personal and official families, answered that he had been forbidden from submitting written evidence.

Vinson obtained permission for him to submit proof of his charges and Fish agreed to do so.

Read Alleged Contract
Fish, appearing before the joint congressional committee on tax evasion, read what he said was a photostatic copy of a contract which Mrs. Roosevelt signed in 1935 for radio broadcasts. It stipulated, he said, that after each of 10 programs the sponsor was to pay $3,000 to the American Friends Service Committee, Philadelphia.

"If she can avail herself of a loophole," Fish said, "then anybody else in America can do the same thing."

Fish said also he believed the committee should call for the income tax returns of James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president; Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, the president's daughter; Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury, and his father, Henry Morgenthau, Sr.; Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator, and John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The contract, as read by Fish, provided that Mrs. Roosevelt was to receive a consideration of $1 only for talks on "Women Today."

"She Earned Money"
"I submit," Fish asserted loudly, "that the contract I read to you for broadcasts by the wife of the president was money she earned as much as money ever was earned by anybody."

"She directed where it would go and controlled that money."

He said the $3,000 for each broadcast was for charitable distribution as directed by Mrs. Roosevelt.

Revenue law permits deductions from income for charitable contributions up to 15 per cent of income.

The New York congressman said he had no intention of making any charges against the president, or of asking for his tax returns.

He planned only, as regarded the president, he said, to file a copy of a statement he claimed the chief executive made in which, Fish contended, Roosevelt admitted taking advantage of tax law loopholes.

Some Clients for Old Age Pensions Will Be Dropped
New provisions of the Illinois old age pension act will eliminate some of the clients now receiving the monthly compensation in Lee county, Chairman O. H. Martin announced this morning. The number to be eliminated from the roll will not be determined until a state inspector conducts a thorough canvass of all applications filed from Lee county. The ownership of property and the ability of members of the family to contribute to the support of the applicants are to be considered as important factors in the continuation of the monthly incomes, it was stated, but the number to be eliminated in Lee county was expected to be few.

William Thompson, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, will officiate, and interment will be made in the Emmert cemetery.

Liberty Near

Workers Fail To Respond To Lewis' Union Rider

Chicago, July 9—(AP)—The freedom for which Mrs. Daisy Tegtmeier has battled with the aid of 16 attorneys during the past three and a half years was just around the corner today for the "forgotten woman of the Cook county jail."

Under a ruling by the Appellate Court of Illinois yesterday, Mrs. Tegtmeier can effect her release, pending a review of her case, by posting $7,000 bond. It was her 24th attempt to get out of jail.

Mrs. Tegtmeier, who is 51, was committed July 27, 1933, by Judge Hugo Friend, for refusing to account for $30,000 of the estate of her father-in-law, Henry Tegtmeier of Des Moines, Iowa.

DEVINE BUYS PROPERTY
Attorney John Devine has purchased property from the O'Brien estate on East Fellows street. This is very desirable property overlooking Rock River. Some of Dixon's finest homes are located on this street.

STATE FAIR SCHOOL
County Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller today issued a second call for applications for the boys' state fair school at Springfield in August. Only a small number have made application thus far and boys desiring to avail themselves of the opportunity are urged to file their applications with Superintendent Miller as early as convenient.

IN CIRCUIT COURT
Judge C. H. Weaver of the Sterling city court is to preside in the Lee county circuit court on two days during the summer months. Through an arrangement with Judge Harry Edwards, who left with Mrs. Edwards yesterday for New York where they will embark on an European vacation cruise, Judge Weaver has consented to preside in the circuit court on July 19 and on August 2.

CACTUS FLOURISHES
Perhaps anticipating a drought during the recent heat wave, the residents of the Lally apartments on Second street have planted several cactus plants in their gardens to the rear of the building. The cactus appears to be flourishing nicely in Illinois soil which appears as adapted to the cactus' sustenance as its native habitat in Arizona.

MINOR ACCIDENT
A minor accident occurred at 12:20 P. M. today at the corner of Second street and Ottawa avenue, when a Ford taxicab driven by N. Madden, was said to have been struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Matt Dietelhoff of Ashton.

Ashton Inspects New Pavement on Road to Cemetery

The Ashton city council met this morning at 10 o'clock to conduct a final inspection of a new section of paving which connects the cemetery south of town with the paving in the city limits. The improvement was completed last week and is soon to be opened to traffic. An 18-foot cement paving was built from the city's motor fuel tax refund. C. K. Willett of this city was the supervising engineer on the improvement.

A greatly improved entrance into Franklin Grove has also been completed and is now open to traffic. The main street connecting the Lincoln highway with the village business section has been materially improved through the expenditure of gas tax refund money. A concrete curb and gutter has been constructed on both sides of the street and a black top coating applied to the surface.

Dixon Woman, 68, Dies at Her Home

Mrs. Theresa Monahan, aged 68, passed away last evening at her home, 321 College avenue. She was born in Kewanee, Ill., Oct. 27, 1868. Walsh, officiating and interment will be in Oakwood.

Remembered Cone

Overton, Neb., July 9—(AP)—A few days ago a tourist stopped at a drug store here to buy an engravings conversation with the druggist, and went away without paying for the cone.

Next morning came a letter addressed to the Drug Store on U. S. Highway No. 30, Iverson, Neb.

Inside were stamps worth five cents—payment for the cone from the unknown tourist.

Relief Clients Must Work on Roads, or Else -- Under New Law

Springfield, Ill., July 9—(AP)—The road officials then are authorized to offer the unemployed jobs constructing or repairing the thoroughfares.

If any employable relief client refuses work, the new law specifies that he can't draw relief in the future. Pay for working is to be the same as the jobless man received from public funds while idle.

Johnson and other legislators said it ought to cut down the relief rolls and might help the roads.

Longest Heat Wave of Year Took Big Toll

Spreads Over Entire Northern Half of the United States

Chicago, July 9—(AP)—Stifling heat held the northern half of the United States in sweltering grip today as the season's longest heat wave claimed at least 84 lives throughout the nation.

Government meteorologists said no immediate relief was in sight. Hitherto confined to the eastern and mid-western states, the prevailing heat wave pushed toward the Pacific coast. Hottest spots in the United States were Yuma, Ariz., and Redding, Calif., where the mercury rose to 104.

Temperatures in the mid-west ranged from 85 to 100 with the average above 90. The day's high at Chicago was 89, Centerville, Ill., reported 92, and Springfield, Ill., 90.

The highest number of deaths were reported in Massachusetts where the toll attributed to the heat wave rose to 21. Michigan reported 16; New York 10; Connecticut 9; Illinois 7; Maine 5; Rhode Island 4; Minnesota and Nebraska, 3 each; Vermont 2; West Virginia, 1 each.

Firecracker Blast May Cost Manlius Boy His Eyesight

Gordon Fordham, Jr., 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fordham of Manlius, is a patient of a Dixon specialist at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, in danger of losing an eye, the result of a belated Fourth of July firecracker accident at his home yesterday. The little fellow found an unexploded firecracker in the yard, took it into the house and enclosed it in a ring of iron washers, secured a match and staged his celebration.

The explosion drove one of the washers into his eye, and when his mother, attracted by his cries, pulled the iron from the eye part of the eyeball came with it. The child was rushed to Dixon by the family's doctor, and everything possible is being done to save the eye—the outcome being very doubtful.

YOUNG VICTIMS

Danville, Ill.—(AP)—James Foster, Jr., 8, was killed and his brother, John, 6, was injured seriously in an automobile accident near here. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Foster of Chicago. The two boys were riding in an automobile driven by Joe Musser, 17, of Danville, when it was crowded off the road by a car that did not stop. The Foster boys and their mother were visiting here.

Plan Similar Calls

Simcox said the strike call was issued only to Republic employees here, and that similar action by the plants of Youngstown Sheet & Tube company would be taken later.

He asked all strikers to gather at the Poland avenue gate of the Republic mill and "show Tom Girdler that the real Republic workers are not in the plant."

Republic reported yesterday that 6,200 men out of a normal force of 6,800 here were on duty. Sheet & Tube claimed it had 12,500 men at work in two Youngstown plants which have an average daily total of 13,050 at work.

Ohio National Guardsmen continued on duty at plants here, as well as in other Ohio steel strike centers. Republic reopened the last of its Ohio mills in Cleveland yesterday.

The deadlock keeping 7,000 Sheet & Tube employees idle in Indiana's Calumet district continued as Gov. M. Clifford Townsend urged petitioners for reopening of the two mills to "help convince the Youngstown company to pursue a fair policy."

Police Detail Cut
The police detail at Republic's South Chicago plant was cut in half to 72 men for each eight-hour shift. The plant was the scene of the Memorial day battle which cost 10 lives and left scores wounded.

A drive to "defend the right of local self government" was announced at Johnstown, Pa., by Francis C. Martin, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, formed as a result of the four weeks old strike in Bethlehem Steel corporation's Cambria works, which normally employs 15,000. The company said 12,000 men had resumed work in the mill.

Martin said a meeting would be held July 15 to expand the movement.

B. J. Damich, S.W.O.C. field director at Cleveland, said strikers' families would conduct a "Tag day" there tomorrow with the slogan: "Help us buy milk for our babies."

Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio, asked about rumors that the National Guard would be withdrawn from Cleveland Sunday, said there was "no announcement at this time."

Cleveland police officials put the detective force back on eight-hour shifts, but informed officers continued on duty 12 hours. Sheriff

STRIKE CALL IN REPUBLIC WAS IGNORED

Workers Fail To Respond To Lewis' Union Rider

Youngstown, O., July 9—(A)—A call for a new strike at Republic Steel plants here by the Steel Workers Organizing committee apparently was ignored by workers today as the deadline of 10:30 A. M. (CST) passed with no workers leaving the mills.

The night relief of police, whom Chief Carl Olson had held in reserve, was dismissed at noon.

Half an hour before the time set for the walkout, a crowd of strike sympathizers and curiosity-seekers, estimated by Chief Olson at 2,000 gathered near the gates but National Guardsmen, special police and deputy sheriffs kept the crowd moving.

Scotty O'Hara, in charge of the S.W.O.C. organization of Republic workers here, said that he expected large numbers of those now working in the Republic mill to stay out in later shifts.

Found Dynamite
Police announced they found six sticks of dynamite with a fuse in the grass behind the CIO office near the Republic steel plant.

George Simcox, vice-president of the Steel Workers Organizing committee at Republic plants here announced that a new strike would be called today.

Simcox's statement followed by a few hours the assertion made in Washington by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that "the steel strikes x x x are lost."

Green has been at odds with John L. Lewis, ex-official leader of the steel strikes as chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, parent body of the S.W.O.C. Lewis led a rebellion in the ranks of the A. F. of L. in his fight for vertical unionization.

Green based his assertion on his claims that the S.W.O.C. had enrolled only a minority when it called the strikes and that it lacked public support because of "the violent policies pursued by the C.I.O."

Marriage Business at New Low In Springfield Through New Law

Springfield, Ill., July 9—(AP)—Springfield's marriage business was at a low ebb today, with city and state health department officials on the verge of becoming embroiled over operation of the Sallie Hygienic marriage law.

The law provides that communities maintaining health departments conduct the required blood and microscopic tests in their own laboratories. Springfield has no such facilities, nor has the city any appropriation for the estimated $8,000 required to have the tests made in local hospitals.

City officials prepared today to notify the state they could not comply with the health department requirement. Some of the officials intimated a case would be filed in court soon to test the validity of certain sections of the act.

Benton, Ill.—(AP)—No marriage licenses have been issued in Franklin county since half an hour before the new Sallie law went into effect, County Clerk George Hockeiger said. The new law requires medical examinations for couples seeking permits to wed.

DAILY HEALTH

By Dr. Iago Galdston
RESCUATION: II

In the previous article we described the necessity of starting artificial respiration as promptly as the victim's body is available, and also described the position in which the victim is to be placed, as well as the kneeling astride position of the person applying artificial respiration.

The hands of the operator are so placed that the palms rest on the small of the victim's back, the little finger just touching his lowest rib. In this position you are ready to begin actual administration of resuscitation. The operator's arms are held straight and the weight of his body is gradually brought to bear upon the patient. The operator swings forward slightly until his shoulders are directly over the heel of the hand. The elbows are not to be bent. This forward swing should take about two seconds.

Having done this, the operator now swings backward so as to remove his weight from the patient's body completely. Allow two seconds for this, then swing forward again, as previously described. The double movement of bringing pressure down upon the patient's chest and then lifting it from off his chest, should occupy a total of four to five seconds. The cycle is therefore to be repeated 12 to 15 times a minute.

Continue artificial respiration without interruption until natural breathing is restored. Do not stop for at least two hours, and if necessary sustain the resuscitation for four hours or longer. Be guided by the physician's instructions. If you are alone, devote yourself entirely to the resuscitation. If help is available, have all tight clothing about the patient's neck, chest or waist loosened. Do not, however, allow such activities to interrupt the rhythmic movements of resuscitation.

Keep the patient warm. Employ hot pads, hot water bottles, or any other means available for conveying heat to his body. Do not attempt to administer any liquid stimulants by mouth. Should the patient show signs of recovering consciousness, do not take this as warrant to stop applying artificial respiration. Do not move the patient about nor urge him to move.

Resuscitation may be carried out in relays. Do not, however, lose the rhythm of the resuscitation movement while changing operators.

Should a patient who has begun to breathe relapse, apply artificial respiration again.

Who left us so suddenly It's "Au revoir" but not good bye.
In your robe of spotless white
On that beautiful isle of somewhere.
Your soul has taken flight,
In the desert a fountain is springing.

In the wild waste there still is a tree
And a bird in the solitude singing
Which speaks to my spirit of thee.

BLACKHAWK SCOUTS REST FOR RETURN

(Special to The Telegraph Via Air Mail)

Washington, D. C., July 9.—After rising at five o'clock this morning, Friday, in order to get the necessary work done before the start of the heat of a Washington July day such as has fairly cooked boys of the Blackhawk contingent at the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Washington, D. C., the past two days, the troop rested prior to entraining at 1:30 this afternoon en route home. They will reach Rockford at 11:30 the morning of July 10.

Thursday afternoon was given over to the obtaining of autographs from new friends made at camp and to purchasing souvenirs for the folks back home. Some of the boys discovered they were a bit short of money due to frequent trips for pop and ice cream, but all managed to find enough left to buy something for mom, dad and the rest of the family.

As the air conditioned special pulled away from the station at Washington for the non-stop jaunt to Chicago there was wild elation evident as the boys thought of mother's cooking and swimming pools and lakes available in their home towns. There was also a feeling of regret, however, for the past three days of sunshine made possible trips and excursions that provided delight for every boy in the group.

At the final meeting of the Blackhawk area contingent on Thursday evening, plans were made to hold an overnight camp at some convenient spot once each year so that National Jamboree friendships can be maintained. Daniel Metzger of Sterling, senior patrol leader, was named as president and James Severson of Rockford was chosen as secretary. The latter official will handle all details of the reunion.

THE COURT AND THE VETO

President Roosevelt once referred to "vetoes" by the Supreme Court of the United States. Of course, the President knows better than to think that the court has a veto on legislation, but he could make it sound as though it had. That point was debated and settled in the constitutional convention. There were those who proposed that there be a court that would have a veto, and there was a proposal that the court might join with the President in exercising the power of veto, but the proposals were discarded.

When President Roosevelt vetoed the soldiers' bonus bill, he acted on a personal notion. He didn't have to have any reason. If a President returns a bill to the Congress, he states objections, but in the event of a pocket veto the bill just dies.

When the President exercises the power of veto he exercises the will of the executive, which he has a right to do.

The court is not empowered to exercise its will. It has no power to pass upon the law at all, except as the rights of some litigant are brought before it for determination. Then, if the question of constitutionality is raised, the court compares the act with the fundamental law that restricts the powers of Congress and decides whether or not the Congress has exceeded its powers.

So to apply the term veto to the power of the court is to do one of those "clever" things we have heard so much about.

Since the spotlight has been placed upon the court, it has become of public interest to compare how many bills have been rejected by veto of presidents and how many have been held unconstitutional by courts.

More than 58,000 acts have been passed since the establishment of the government, and only 77 of them have been declared unconstitutional. That includes the emergency legislation that many congressmen favored without any notion that it would stand the test of the Supreme Court.

On the other hand there have been vetoes of 1,167 acts of Congress by presidents. Grover Cleveland vetoed more bills than any other president, the number being 475. Franklin Roosevelt is next with 221.

It readily may be seen that the Supreme Court, during its 150 years of existence, has a record almost of purity compared to that of presidents, if we have in mind that somebody is thwarting the will of the representatives of the people.

UNIONS UP AND DOWN IN STEEL

Labor unions long have had their ups and downs in the steel industry. Middle-aged persons will recall the Homestead affair in the depression of the '90s. That broke the back of unionism in steel.

In the wave of trade unionism that followed the War of the Rebellion, steel workers were organized in crafts of puddlers, heaters, rollers, and nailers. In 1876 the National Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers was organized. It was in the ascendancy for a decade, and then it fell to a low level.

Through the 20 years after the Civil war, steel was making progress, but mills still were small, compared to what they now are. They were managed by the men who owned them in large part and the workers were mostly of highly skilled type of American stock. As organized laborers they were conservative. Andrew Carnegie, whose head began to tower above others in the industry, favored the unions as they then were conducted.

Time brought changes in management, and probably in the attitude of labor, and certainly in the size of the organization. When Carnegie placed management of his industry largely in the hands of H. C. Frick, the trend toward the open shop began.

In 1892, presidential year, things looked bad for the tariff on steel, the industry began to drag and the labor contract was expiring. Frick asked workers to take a cut of 10 per cent per ton of steel produced at the Homestead mill. The union demanded that it be no more than 4 per cent. The contract was permitted to expire, and the plant was shut down.

Frick engaged detectives to serve as watchmen, and when they attempted to land in barges, the union men would not let them land. The encounter turned out to be a rather bitter and bloody affair, and the Homestead strike made history.

The Carnegie company announced that thereafter a non-union plant would be operated at Homestead. The governor of Pennsylvania preserved the right to work for those who desired to work, and in four months the strikers were back on their jobs.

This year public policy in Pennsylvania was reversed, and the national guard was in the field to prevent men who wanted to work from going to their jobs.

When the United States Steel Corporation was formed in 1901 it adopted an anti-union policy, and many of its subsidiaries fell in line. There remained union labor in some of that corporation's plants until 1909, when a strike by unions resulted in their defeat.

Immediately after the World war a far-reaching effort was made to organize steel workers, but it resulted in failure.

That is the background of the controversy that now engages the steel industry. It appears now that the contest is not so much between capital and labor as between those who desire to return to the jobs that so long had been non-existent, to return to a normal life, and those who have undertaken to fix a tribute they shall pay for any jobs they may hold.

Strangely the state and federal governments of Pennsylvania and Ohio left the traditional position of American governments and prohibited men from going back to their jobs.

They could go on relief, Mr. Hopkins said, but they could not go back to work, the governors said.

President's Mother

When the President visits his mother's home at Hyde Park he becomes, at least as far as she is concerned, just a small boy again. She can't get out of the habit of planning for him and wanting to know in advance just exactly what he is going to do that day.

"Franklin," she said on one visit to Hyde Park, "what are your plans for this afternoon?"

"Oh, I don't know yet," he replied, absorbed with the work on his desk.

"But Franklin, I have arrangements to make."

"Oh, everything will be all right. Don't worry about me, Mother."

"But I cannot order the car without knowing," Mrs. Roosevelt persisted.

"Oh, all right, all right," replied her son, still trying to concentrate on his deskwork. And finally his mother, a little discouraged, went out.

Merry-Go-Round

Three candidates are in the field for National Commander of the American Legion. They are Ray Kelly of Detroit, Daniel Dougherty of Massachusetts, and Vincent Carroll of Pennsylvania. The election will be held at the conclusion of the Legion's convention in New York City late in September. If Congress adjourns in time to permit him to make the trip, Representative George H. Tinkham, wealthy Boston bachelor, plans to visit the Gobi desert trip is for sight-seeing purposes only. His eyes are no longer good enough for hunting. The honor of having the longest service record as postmaster belongs to a postmistress. She is a Miss Mary W. Stewart of Oxford, Md., who has held her job 60 years.

Brain Twizzlers

By

PROF. J. D. FLINT

The officials of a bank in Scotland embezzled a large sum of money. Quick action was taken by the police to prevent the men from leaving the country. In a short while some clues were discovered—clues which led the police to believe the men were dead. The fugitives had been traced to a certain community near the barren coast and a cordon of police was drawn to prevent escape. Near a stile a pocketbook containing the name of one of the men was found. From the stile the footprints of the two men, one of them was large and the other small, were found leading straight to the edge of a cliff which formed a perpendicular and long drop to the sea and boulders below. There was no foothold for a descent and no footprint led away from the spot. The police concluded that the men had committed suicide and decided to withdraw and search the coast for bodies. A detective who had accompanied the search then protested the decision, and calling attention to the footprints, pointed out that the taller man had taken shorter strides than the shorter man, that the shorter man had trodden heavily on his heels and the taller man on his toes. He also said they could not have walked backwards due to the exactitude of the prints. He also said the men were alive and in the neighborhood and gave his explanation. What was it?

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

Albert Edward Wiggam, S.Sc. Author of "THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea. (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. This statement was made recently by Divorce Proctor Evangelina Starr of Seattle. Out of the 2,012 divorces granted in 1936 in that city the largest number were to couples "enjoying" their third year of marital "bliss." Proctor Starr argues that the two reasons were that it took until the third year for both parties to get completely over the honeymoon and settle down to the humdrum of married life and that, by that time, each saw without illusions or halos the shortcomings of the other and were not willing to go further in trying to overcome them. I imagine this is a pretty correct diagnosis.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. If by frankness you mean blurted out everything you think or know about other people, it would cause an instantaneous social earthquake and make friendship impossible. Your best friends, indeed your most loved ones, do things you do not approve.

Inventory Your Personality

Knowledge of your Emotional and Personality traits is of great value to you. Dr. Wiggam has persuaded one of America's greatest Universities to permit the offer of the Personality Schedule used by it in determining personality strengths and weaknesses of college students. This Personality Schedule was prepared by one of America's leading psychologists. It contains 220 scientifically tested questions designed to measure your Personality. A method of self-grading is provided. Knowing your strengths and weaknesses equips you for self-improvement. This Personality Schedule is yours upon request accompanied by stamped (3c) self-addressed return envelope, together with 10c in coin to cover actual costs. Just ask for Personality Schedule. Address Dr. Albert E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. David Seabury, psychologist, argues that forward-looking worry is entirely justifiable but that backward-looking worry never is. We cannot change the past; therefore to worry over things that cannot be changed—either in the past or future is childish—mere emotional morosity. It prevents us from worrying successfully over the things in the future that can be changed and prevents us from thinking clearly about them and taking intelligent measures to prevent failure and insure success. Do all your worrying about tomorrow, not about yesterday, so that you may make today successful and reasonably happy.

Tomorrow: Are women as afraid of being DIFFERENT as men?

THIS WILL BREAK CALIFORNIA'S HEART

Austin, Tex.—(AP)—The experts were wrong when they said Texas would have only 80,000 old age pensioners. The rolls now list 120,000 and are still growing with the system in effect less than a year.

The low figure was based on the experiences of other states. The only explanation offered by authorities is that people live longer in Texas.

"Theological Picnic"
The dictionary is not very sure where the word "picnic" originated but suggests that it might have arisen from the fashion of "picking" what you like from all the "knickknacks" of food usually to be seen at such occasions.

Some people's thoughts about God and Christ are gathered on the picnic fashion; they seem to be unaware that God had revealed himself—through His Son and His Word. Our need is not so much to seek God as it is to be found of Him through the revelation He has provided.

We invite you to the services this coming Sunday: At 10 A. M. the pastor will preach on "Paul's Atlas of Conquest." At 7:00 P. M. the Young People will meet; the evening service following at 7:30 P. M., when the message will be "The Pilgrim's Progress in Four Words."

HORNER OKAYS $300,000 FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Emergency Appropriations Rushed 20 Destitute

Springfield, Ill., July 9—(AP)—A precedent was set today as Governor Horner approved a $300,000 emergency state appropriation for less than twenty destitute high schools.

It was the first time the state has distributed funds to high schools.

It was the only concession Mr. Horner made to the demands of school officials for a doubled state aid appropriation.

The Parker-Davis bill, signed late yesterday, was designed to permit the neediest southern Illinois high schools to open in the fall. To qualify, a district must have levied the maximum $1.50 tax rate for high school education.

That will permit funds to go to the Christopher school, attended by some of the children of Speaker Louie E. Lewis. But school spokesmen said it wouldn't help Johnson City, where assessments and revenue have dropped.

More than six weeks ago the governor vetoed a somewhat similar $789,000 high school appropriation. The Parker-Davis bill was drafted to meet his objections and was signed after the house refused to increase the $13,000,000 state aid distribution to common schools.

Still on the governor's desk today were some 150 bills, awaiting signature or veto or the chance to become law without executive approval. Next Monday is the traditional governor to clean up after the legislature. His legal advisers said the desk probably would be cleared after a strenuous weekend.

Law Revises Pensions
Two of the new laws, signed late yesterday, revise the old age pension statutes to give to the state part of the "home rule" authority now held by the counties. Legislators said the change was necessary if the federal government is to continue to pay half of the maximum $30 a month aged pensions.

The present county welfare departments, appointed by the county judges, are abolished. The work in each downstate county is to be handled by a superintendent, selected by a competitive state examination. County boards will name five persons to take the examination for superintendent.

Swedish leaders gathered in the governor's office to watch the signing of a bill creating a special commission, with a $5000 appropriation, to participate next year in the 300th anniversary of the first Swedish colonization of America. Another new commission will place an Illinois monument on the Gettysburg battlefield, spending $2500. The same amount was voted a commission to participate in the 150th anniversary of the federal constitution.

Enacted into law was the Edward Hunter bill revising the tax commission's methods of railroad assessments. Another new law forbids the display of the American Legion ensignia on motor vehicles.

Pigeon Flew 1,347 Yards Per Minute in 500 Mile Race

Milwaukee, July 9—(AP)—A pigeon from the Kiesling-Ziegler loft in St. Paul, Minn., won the Topeka mid-continental 500-mile race, June 19 and 20. Norman Pezzer, Milwaukee official liberator, reported today. The bird averaged 1347.06 yards per minute. Third went to William Macek, Hopkins, Wis., followed in order by Al Vowles, John Workhak, Ed Busby, John Worshak and August Fieger, all of St. Paul.

Twenty-two birds were among top money winners. There were 675 birds from 23 cities in the race. They were liberated from Topeka, Kan., June 19 and flew to various cities within a 500-mile radius.

Economist Named to Tariff Board

Washington, July 9—(AP)—A. Manuel Fox, New York economist, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be a member of the Tariff commission for the remainder of the term of Robert Lincoln O'Brien of Massachusetts, who resigned recently. The term expires June 16, 1942.

Fox has been director of research for the commission since 1934. The President also sent to the Senate the reappointment of Joseph B. Eastman of Massachusetts as a member of the Interstate Commerce commission.

Leo J. Keena of Michigan was nominated to be minister to the Union of South Africa, and John D. Erwin of Tennessee, minister to Honduras.

FRENCH PATTERN LIVES ON HIGHER TAX SCALE NOW

Costs Of Living In All Phases Raised By New Decree

Paris, July 9—(AP)—Forty-five million Frenchmen began to mold their economic lives to a new pattern today—one decreed by the second People's Front government to wipe out a regular budget deficit of some 8,000,000,000 francs (about $308,800,000).

The average citizen awoke to find his taxes and costs of living increased and his government arranging to increase railway fares and freight tariffs.

The council of ministers, under the new Premier Camille Chauvin, published the sweeping financial decree last night to replenish the treasury by a total of 10,500,000,000 francs (about $410,000,000) and thus meet the fiscal emergency that brought the downfall of the first Popular Front premier, Leon Blum.

Results Summarized
Some of the results under this new economic deal are:

The French citizen must pay one-fifth more income tax than last year, if he earns 20,000 francs (about $760) or more a year.

Cigarettes, which formerly cost the equivalent of 10 1/4 cents, now cost more than 12.

It costs two and one-half cents to mail an ordinary letter instead of the former approximate charge of two cents.

Telephone bills were increased about one-third.

The tax on transfer of securities was raised from eight per cent to 12.

Fuel for motor trucks was increased in price but that for private automobiles remained unchanged.

Reds Finally Find Team They Can Beat

Peoria, Ill., July 9—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds won a sweep of their two-game series with Three-Eye league baseball teams today after their 10-inning 5 to 4 victory over Peoria last night. The major leaguers tallied three times in the tenth and then stopped a Peoria rally one run short of a tie. The Reds whipped Decatur's Three-Eye team the night before.

Horner's Outdoor Air-Conditioning Scheme Gaining

Chicago, July 9—(AP)—Gov. Henry Horner's campaign to air-condition the outdoor for relief of hayfever sufferers gained momentum today.

The Chicago Farmers, an organization comprising 325 farm owners in the metropolitan area, adopted a resolution yesterday calling for prompt weed clearance on their lands.

J. H. Lloyd, state director of agriculture, told the membership that the hayfever season begins with the flight of pollen in August and that the ragweed is the chief offender. He estimated that weeds cost the nation three billion dollars annually in reduced crop yields.

Lloyd will direct a special campaign from August 8 to August 22, designated by Gov. Horner as weed destruction days.

He said in order to make the campaign in behalf of hayfever sufferers especially effective in Chicago area it would be necessary to eradicate weeds in Lake, McHenry, Kane, DuPage, Will and Cook counties.

German Schlager Insists Farr Box Him Before Louis

London, July 9—(AP)—Max Schmeling, arriving today from Berlin, said that he "insisted" that Tommy Farr, British Empire heavyweight champion, should fight him before meeting world champion Joe Louis.

The German tentatively had been scheduled to meet Farr here in August or September. However, Farr entered into negotiations with American promoter Mike Jacobs, who announced in New York yesterday that Louis and the Briton would meet at the Yankee stadium Aug. 26.

Fish - Game

New Code Made Law by Signature of Gov. Horner

Springfield, Ill., July 9—(AP)—Illinois sportsmen will be required to meet several new major regulations under the conservation department's new fish and game codes which Governor Horner signed yesterday.

Topping the new requirements are 50 per cent increases in fishing and hunting license fees to 75 cents and 1.50, respectively. The department sought the additional revenue to finance extension of its wild life propagation program.

Enforcement of the fish code will not begin until January 1 but the game code became effective immediately, covering the approaching hunting and trapping seasons.

The fish code may require a Supreme Court ruling before a final interpretation is had on language which, read literally, prohibits the use of more than one pole to each license.

The mix-up resulted when an amendment intended to eliminate the department's restrictions of two poles was adopted in the senate but apparently had the opposite effect because its language did not conform to that of the bill.

The game code prohibits hunters from using guns capable of firing more than three consecutive shots, the same restrictions as in last year's federal regulations on migratory waterfowl hunting.

The seasons on rabbits, quails and pheasants will be the same throughout the state, instead of varying in the three zones under the present laws. The squirrel season will be shortened in the southern and central zones. The daily bag limit on rabbits is reduced from 15 to 10, and on squirrels from 10 to eight.

Granting the demands of southern Illinois hunters, foxes will be protected in that zone and may be taken only in the season on other fur-bearing animals, extended up to 15 days in the central division, and shortened in the northern zone.

Trappers may use only 25 traps to each license and each trap must bear a tag furnished by the department and carrying a number corresponding to that on the license.

Use of set lines in all fish preserves will be banned, along with bait consisting of or treated with any chemical. The licensee will be required to have his pole or rod under "immediate control at all times."

Department officers and employees will have extended authority to search for evidence of contraband game.

Wool Handlers in Boston End Strike

Boston, July 9—(AP)—Boston's three-week-old strike of wool handlers ended today. Within a few minutes, workers began the task of clearing docks of thousands of bales of wool that have clogged them since the strike started.

James T. Moriarty, state commissioner of labor and industries, said the agreement between the wool handlers and General Warehouse Employees' union, a branch of the International Longshoremen's association, and the warehouse owners, called for re-employment of all strikers.

Last night the men dropped their demands for a closed shop, the only point then in dispute.

RANGER TRIES FOR ELEVENTH STRAIGHT WIN

Sopwith Grieves Over the Death of Rival's Navigator

New Port, R. I., July 9—(AP)—Ranger, the unbeaten sloop with which Harold S. Vanderbilt will meet T. O. M. Sopwith's second British challenger, Endeavour II, sought her 11th straight victory today over Gerard B. Lambert's Yankee and Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, her two unsuccessful rivals for the honor.

Meanwhile, Sopwith and his associates grieved over the death yesterday of Capt. Donald MacPhee, 56, Endeavour II's navigator. Captain MacPhee will be buried in the plot of the Seamen's Church Institute, in Island cemetery here. The Rev. Roy W. Magoun will conduct the services.

Ranger had a chance today to clinch a cup offered by former Commodore George Nichols of the New York Yacht club. If she should win the race, the third of a scheduled series of four, and Yankee should finish second, neither of her rivals could collect enough points to take the cup even by winning a fourth contest.

Yankee switched booms before leaving for the starting line. Her flat-topped "Park Avenue" spar was put ashore and an ordinary hollow boom shipped in its stead. Lambert also has announced he will return to the conventional sail plan used by the other cup boats after the current series and before he engages in races with the New York Yacht club and Eastern Yacht club cruises.

SPAIN'S LOYAL ARMY CONTINUES ITS SUCCESSES

Hope To End For All Time Rebels' Threat Against Madrid

The westward sweep of government Spain's central armies today engulfed Quiljorna, 18 miles west of Madrid.

The town is about 2 1/2 miles northwest of Brunete, also taken by the government in its offensive intended to end for all time the threat of insurgent armies about Madrid.

Simultaneously the government army spearheaded westward and southward at other points on the Madrid front, and officers announced widespread aerial warfare successes.

The fifth army corps captured Quiljorna and, along with it, some 200 prisoners and many materials of war.

The 27-nation non-intervention committee adjourned after a three-hour session in London, still deadlocked on plans for keeping arms and men from reaching Spain.

Look To Fascists
Great Britain, having been rebuffed by Germany and Italy on her proposal that she and France take over the international naval patrol of Spain's coasts, looked to Germany and Italy to take the initiative in new proposals.

France showed signs of weakening in her determination to open the Pyrenees frontier to the Spanish central government immediately unless the international neutrality patrol is re-established on Spain's east coast.

Informed sources said Ambassador Charles Corbin, French member of the non-intervention committee, declared at today's first committee session that France would open her border, but he did not fix a date.

TRUST IN BRITAIN
London, July 9—(AP)—Great Britain was entrusted with finding a quick solution of the present deadlock over the Spanish non-intervention scheme tonight after France had threatened to suspend frontier patrols Monday along the Pyrenees.

France threatened thus to open the Spanish border to arms traffic on Monday unless the non-intervention equilibrium was restored.

An afternoon session of the non-intervention committee ended with the participating nations still deadlocked and without any useful suggestion for compromise being advanced.

Britain, whose proposal that she and France take over the entire international naval patrol around Spain was turned down by Germany and Italy, had looked to those two nations for new proposals on how a non-intervention program could be effectively carried out.

It was understood the Netherlands' representative had proposed that Lord Plymouth, chairman of the non-intervention group, again try to find a solution of the problem.

Hence, once again, Britain will be playing the familiar role of trying to keep the Spanish civil war confined to Spain.

Arms of Another

Pekin, Ill., July 9—(AP)—Mrs. Florence Burlingame, 20, was near death in a Pekin hospital today from two bullet wounds which Police Chief Guy Donahue said were inflicted by her husband, Herbert, 20.

Chief Donahue said Burlingame, who was held in the Tazewell county jail, admitted firing the shots after he found his wife in the arms of Orville Boyer, 20, of Green Valley.

The shooting occurred in the apartment of Miss Grace Cline, with whom Mrs. Burlingame had been living since she separated from her husband, six weeks ago.

Chief Donahue quoted Boyer as saying the shooting followed an argument between the Burlingames about a divorce. Boyer denied he had been keeping company with the woman.

SECONDARY ROAD WORK WAITS 'GO AHEAD' SIGNAL

State Proposed Building 10,000 Miles of Such in 20 Years

Springfield, Ill., July 9—(AP)—State highway officials, in partnership with the Federal government, mapped out today an ambitious 20-year program for a 10,000 mile secondary road system.

Chief Highway Engineer Ernst Lieberman said his office is waiting only for a "go ahead" signal from Governor Horner, who yesterday signed the Lager bills authorizing the construction and maintenance of "Federal secondary" roads.

So far, Illinois has built only 760 of the secondary or farm-to-market highways.

Lieberman estimated 20 years would be necessary to complete the 10,000 miles, with the Federal government and the state each furnishing $1,000,000 annually. The first Federal grant has been received and matched.

Maintenance Provisions
Townships, counties and municipalities are required to maintain secondary roads in their territories.

The Federal system will consist of farm to market, mine to market, rural mail, public school bus and other rural roads of "community value" which lead to important roads or rail and water shipping points.

The designation of the road system, which is the first step in answering a long time plea of Illinois farmers, is under the jurisdiction of the department of public works and buildings, subject to Federal approval.

Should financially able communities fail to maintain such roads, no additional secondary roads will be constructed in their territory until they comply with the act. The state may, if necessary, share the cost of road maintenance with the local governments.

Great Air Show—

airport, as an outstanding stunt pilot who thrilled the crowd with his death defying loops, rolls, dives and general acrobatics. He has gained national prominence at the National Air races and made a forced landing last year while speeding at better than 250 miles an hour. Captain Davis was in Dixon over last weekend and assured the local committee that he will be accompanied by other world famed speed and stunt pilots who will bring their planes to Dixon for the meet.

Rat-Wing Jump
According to a telegram received from Captain Davis this morning, he has assured the Dixon committee that he will bring with him a famous rat-wing jumper who will jump from a plane at a 10,000 foot altitude and soar like a bird on specially constructed wings which are attached to his arms and legs, until within 1,000 feet of the ground before opening his emergency parachute. In this event he leaves behind him a trail of white smoke so that his flight can easily be followed by those on the ground. Clem Sohn, the originator of this stunt, was recently killed while exhibiting in Paris, France, and the jumper who will exhibit at the Dixon meet was his understudy and has taken his place in national exhibitions. This will be the first time that this event has been shown at any air meet in this section of the country and this exhibition in itself should assure a large turn-out for the Dixon meet.

Details Being Arranged
Chairman Jones has advised The Telegraph that all committees to competently handle the meet are being appointed and that every member of the local Party and Eight will co-operate to make this year's show the greatest ever held in Dixon or northern Illinois. It is expected by the local committee that planes from the state aeronautical commission and the United States department of commerce will be on the field in addition to many privately owned planes. It is also expected that some of the Illinois national guard planes from Chicago will be present to head the parade of the ships which will start promptly at 2 o'clock and which will be the opening event of the program.

Show Planes Here Early
Captain Davis has stated that at least two of the show planes will be in Dixon a few days before the meet to assist in the publicity program over the surrounding country. These planes will be equipped for sky writing and will be seen in this section of the country several times the latter part of next week advertising the meet.

Many of the Dixon merchants have again signified their intention of co-operating with the local Forty and Eight by sponsoring the different events on the program. More detailed information concerning the events and the pilots will be available for later issues of The Telegraph.

Farm Advisers to

Marion, Ill., July 9—(AP)—Southern Illinois farmers and farm advisers of 15 counties are to inspect the Dixon Springs re-settlement administration land utilization project today.

Engineers and foresters will show groups through the 10,000 acre tract, in Pope county. The project includes pasture experiments, soil treatment, erosion control, systems of grazing, and forest development.

Congressmen Learn
 Crop Insurance
 Average Cost

Washington, July 9 — (AP) — Congressmen have learned proposed government crop insurance would cost the nation's wheat farmers from about one to 35 per cent of their average yields in the form of premiums.

Sample premium rates prepared by the agriculture department for the house agriculture committee disclosed rates would run as high as a third or more of the average crop in semi-arid western Kansas.

The house committee has under consideration the Pope (D-Ida) wheat crop insurance bill already passed by the senate.

Under this measure, farmers taking out insurance would pay premiums in the form of grain, which would be stored for release to them as indemnities when they suffered crop losses.

In no event would they be indemnified for more than 75 per cent of their average yields.

The agriculture department reported it had established rates for each of 1,600 wheat counties in the United States. They were based on past production records.
 Individual farm production records would be given equal weight with county records in determining rates for individual farms.

The sample rates per acre, on the basis of 75 per cent coverage, in a number of counties were given as follows:

Illinois—Pike, 6 bushels; Edgar, 1.6; Mason, .7.

Among the freight carried by the airplane which inaugurated airmail service between Quebec province and New York state was a live black bear cub.

LONDON PAPER
CENSORS SELF
TO HELP EARL

London, July 9 — (AP) — The London Press has partly reviewed the self-imposed censorship of pre-ab-dication days in an attempt to uphold the dignity of the House of Lords which had been ruffled by the Earl of Moray and his cigarette.

The tall, 45-year-old, war-wounded earl shocked his fellow peers last night by leisurely lighting up and smoking at the steps of the throne used by the king at opening of parliament. He had just disrupted debate on a bill to broaden grounds for divorce.

The earl was escorted from the chamber.

After it was indicated unofficially an ancient statute might be invoked to penalize newspapers publishing an account of the incident, the London Press divided in its treatment of the affair.

The Times, Post, Mail and News Chronicle gave a big play to the general debate but passed over mentioning Lord Moray's actions.
 The Telegraph carried a bare reference to his remarks which it said were "almost inaudible and abruptly concluded".

The Herald put a foot in both camps by printing an account of the disturbance in its second edition and later withdrawing it. The Express and Mirror alone spoiled full details under front page headlines.

"SEWARD'S FOLLY"
 VINDICATED

ALASKA CANADA

WHEN, in 1867, Secretary of State William H. Seward decided to buy the territory of Alaska from Russia for $7,200,000, a rain of abuse fell upon him. Congress delayed approval, while some members could not understand why so much should be paid for a "frozen wilderness." Soon, the country referred to the purchase as "Seward's Folly."

But in a few years, Seward was vindicated. Alaska, covering 577-390 square miles of rugged country, literally became a gold mine.
 Its mineral output today, mostly gold, silver and copper, totals $20,000,000 annually, nearly three times its original purchase price.
 Fishing, Alaska's greatest industry, has incurred an investment of $70,000,000 and brings in more than $30,000,000 annually. Fur and skins have added more millions, and the total exports of merchandise alone is well over $35,000,000 a year.

At the time of the purchase, Alaska had only 10,000 white inhabitants. The 1930 census showed 60,000 population, and additional thousands have arrived since.

In 1909, the United States issued a stamp commemorating this valuable acquisition.

FISH AND THE WEATHER

By Harold Hollis

There is no doubt that some days offer better fishing than others.
 Weather conditions and seasons do affect the behavior of fish and the angler fortunate enough to be on hand when they are "biting" is virtually assured of success. Unfortunately, however, we cannot always pick our fishing days. Generally we have to take our fishing as we find it. But the experienced angler who knows where to look for fish can often enjoy a good day's sport under apparently adverse conditions.

From the beginning of the season until about mid-July or even later, the warm water fishes, such as bass, pike and muskellunge, strike quite readily, although, of course, any such statement regarding fish and fishing must be made with reservations. Hungry after the fast of their spawning seasons, they are usually ready to feed, morning, noon and night.

At this period warm, sunny days are likely to offer the best fishing, particularly for bass. My own best catches of river smallmouth have been made on bright sunny days in late June and July. There is a good explanation of this. On such days the minute water organisms on which the minnows feed are produced in great quantities. This results in greater activity of the small fish and hence of the larger fish that prey on them. Land insects such as dragon flies and butterflies are also out in greater numbers on such days.

I have also had good success fishing for lake large mouth on such days. During the early summer the largemouth will be found near the surface even on the hottest days if he can find a bit of shade such as is furnished by lily pads or weed beds. One July day fishing with floating bass bugs around weed beds, I took more bass than two friends using live bait in deep water.

Since the visibility on clear, sunny days is very high, the fisherman must move cautiously and use the finest tackle consistent with safety.

Long periods of hot weather when the temperature soars far above 90 degrees are unfavorable for fishing. At such time, the surface water becomes too warm for even the largemouth bass, and all fish seek the depths. Live bait may be the only practical lure for such occasions. If you can find a place in the lake where there are bottom springs you will get fish in extremely hot weather.

River fish during these hot periods seek either the deep spring fed pools or the very fast water.

 Because water in rapids is constantly in motion it has a higher oxygen content and is much cooler than slow water.

During June and early July one gets some good fishing on an evening following a warm humid day, as such weather brings out hatches of shad flies or other aquatic insects. Such a hatch almost invariably brings the fish to the surface.

I have had good success fishing for bass just prior to a severe electric storm. I have never had any great success fishing in the rain although many anglers think that such times are the best to be out.
 Maybe it's because I usually head for home when it starts to rain. I don't enjoy fishing when I'm uncomfortable.

Yesterday, the posse finds reveals to Stuart that rich gold samples were found clutched in Paul's hand.

CHAPTER XIV

IT didn't matter if the reporters missed one salient detail in their really excellent coverage of the tragedy, and it wasn't their fault anyway. Sheriff Watson didn't want the fact known that Paul Colter's dead hand had clutched gold; he had his own reasons. Only his searching party and Stuart Blake had been told.

"You see what all they printed, as 'tis," the sheriff commented two days later, in talking to Stuart.
 "If we'd let it be known Colter actually found gold, we'd have thousands of people climbing around up here, and more business than any sheriff could take care of. Gold breeds fools, Mr. Blake!"

"Have you been back to the place? Where you found the body?"

"Nope. But the old man knows.
 He'll probably go back. His son's death might have discouraged him and sent him with his family on back to Texas, but I had to give him the nuggets. They were rightfully his. He'll hunt ag'in."

The Colters did go hunting again.

They buried Paul the next day after they found him. It was a peculiarly mixed group of mourners who went to the graveside, right there at the base of the mountain. Carolee had suggested this as the logical place to bury him, for economic as well as for sentimental reasons. With her and her grieving family stood all the people at Superstition Lodge, a few assorted ranchers and cowboys, and the newspaper men.
 The sheriff kept several dozen curious strangers away. Twenty-four hours afterward, old man Colter and Silas were preparing to enter the mountain fastnesses again, heading for Paul's last camp in the hope and heightened expectation of locating the gold deposit. The sheriff would continue whatever investigation he could.

POETS' CORNER

I OWN THE OPEN

I own the open-all is mine.
The earth, the sky, the air,
This free gift of the universe
With all the world, I share.

I own the ocean, vast and wide,
Its rolling, breaking wave
Is like this restless soul of mine
That love and beauty crave.

I own the birds that swiftly soar
And hover in the air,
For me they chant their morning
songs,
Carol an evening prayer.

I own the flowers of the field
That bloom on fen and moor
Their fragrance and their beauty are Alike for rich and poor.

God gives freely of His blessings Freely should we receive,
Enjoy all that He has given,
Have faith in Him, believe.
